Lisburn, tuesd.—ditto. with some very coarse yd.wds.	2000

The 3-qur wide linens of this county, are chiefly bleached and finished in the neighbourhood of Ballymena and Antrim: some few of the finest sorts are finished in the neighbourhood of Belfast.—Many of the 7-8th wide linens, are bleached in the interior parts of the county; but the greatest part of that width, and those of the best quality, are bleached near Belfast and Lisburn, and finished in the highest order, together with the principal part of the Yard-wides, which compose a very large share of the fine trade of the province.

Armagh weekly market is the best in the province for 9, 10, and 11, hundreds, of the best fabric; Keady linens, of 8 and 10 hundreds, are of a strong fabric, and the market, tho' small, is likely to encrease, from the number of bleach-greens in the neighbourhood—Lurgan, exclusive of the weekly average of this market, which is full 2500l. there are sundry Drapers resident in the town, who manufacture and bleach lawns, cambricks, diapers, and tickens, to the amount of 400 l. and upwards, weekly.—The bleach-greens of this county are principally situated in the neighbourhood of Armagh and Keady, where they finish those strong yard-wide linens, known by the name of stout Armaghs, and are in great repute; but the bulk of the finer linens, manufactured and sold in this county, are bleached on the rivers Lagan and Banny, in the counties of Antrim and Down.

Co. CAVAN, Averaged.

COOTHILL, friday,—yd-wides and sheeting,	1000	£.
Ballyhays, } Cavan, } Ballyconnel, }	Quarterly fairs, 600 l. ann. } 7-8.h.
Kilishandra, wed. 7-8ths, & yd-wides, coarse fabric.	300	68200

Coothill sheetings, mostly 5-qua ters, and some few 6 qurs. wide, and from nine to fourteen hundreds; the coarser sorts of indifferent stuff, the finer neatly made; but both these and the linens, which usually run from ten to twelve hundreds, are defective in stoutness, being of 100 light texture. The bleachgreens in this county are few and much scattered, the manufacture does not seem to improve, and regular markets are much wanted.

Banbridge, Newry, Kilteel and Ballynahinch linens are of a good stout fabrick, chiefly the 12 hundreds : Hillsborough, remarkable for a neat, light fabrick, particularly the 7, 8, and 9 hundreds for exportation, unbleached, the yarn being well purged, &c. — In this county there are great numbers of bleachgreens, particularly on the river Bann, where, in the course of seven miles, passing by Banbridge, Gilford, and Moyallen, are 12 bleachgreens, which on the whole finish full 60,000 pieces ann.

Rathmelon, tuesday, weekly average, 150 l. }

Ballybosay, Stranorlan and Convo, in Laggans, yearly, — 2000 l.

The only linen-markets in this county are these two mentioned above, at which places are 7-8 wides from nine to twelve hundreds, and some few yard-wides from fourteen to seventeen hundreds, all made of good stuff, but decayed rather light, and the linens exposed to sale in double pieces. A great misfortune attending these markets is, they are chiefly occupied by jobbers, who buy up the linens for Derry market, and it is extremely difficult to enforce the laws. Laggans are principally manufactured in the neighbourhood of Convo, Stranorlan, Ballybosay, and Castlefin; they are made of good stuff, wove in long pieces, and the manufacturer or weaver cutting the pieces in lengths of 10 yards each, whiten them without the use of mills, and thus expose them for sale.

Co. FERMANAGH Averaged.

Brookeborough, last monday of the month, yard-wide linens from 8 to 12 hundreds, of a good fabrick; averaged at about 300 l. per month. — There are some good 9 and 10 headed linens yard-wide, made in the neighbourhood of Enniskillen and Maguire's bridge, and sold at the fairs of these towns, averaged at 500 l. which make the linen sales of this county 2,000 l. — There are only four bleach-yards in this county, and one linen-market, but the county abounds with spinners and good flax-yarn.

The bleach-greens in this county are principally situated in the neigh-

The linens in this county in general are of a strong rough fabrick, the yarn not being sufficiently purged.—There are few bleach-yards here; although I apprehend from the appearance of lakes and rivers, that several good situations might be had; those already erected, are chiefly at Crieve, and the neighbourhood of Ballybay; the linens bleached in this county, are of the species of ARMAGHS, but the greatest part of the brown linens, are purchased by buyers from Armagh, Antrim, and Down, and it is supposed one full eighth of the manufacture of the county is bought up by jobbers, and re-fold in other counties.

The bleach-greens of this county are principally situated in the neighbourhood of Dungannon, Cookstown and Stewartstown; from Castlecaulfield to Strabane, in the North-west part of the county, there are only two or three bleach-greens. The principal part of the linens finished in the county are seven-eight wides, of the denomination formerly of Money mores, but may now be called coarse and fine Tyrones, and of an inferior quality to those seven-eight wides called Coleranes.

The difference between the above principal sums, and any other intermediate sums is not to bear any Interest. Entries or Duplicates are to be given to the pawner at the following rates.—One penny where the sum borrowed does not exceed 10s.—more than 10s. and not exceeding 40s. two pence,—and where any sum lent shall be more than 40s. the sum of four pence, and no more.—Pawns under 20s are redeemable in 6 months—40s in nine months—all above 40s in twelve months. And it lies at the discretion of the Pawn-broker to appraise any pledge pursuant to the Act, when one year's Interest is due on the same.

A new and accurate LIST of the FAIRS of IRELAND, thrown into Provinces, and alphabetically arranged under each County. In all former Lists given to the Public, a Gentleman was under the necessity of reading over several Pages before he was able to find out the name of the Place he wanted: in this List we have obviated this great Error, & have also distinguished the moveable Fairs; so that this List, thus regulated, will answer for any future year.
